IMPORTANT NOTICE!
READ THIS BEFORE YOU SIGN:

Arizona state law requires that before voluntarily acknowledging paternity, you be given notice of the alternatives to, the legal consequences of, and the rights and responsibilities that result. Here are some of the things you should know.

- No one is required to voluntarily acknowledge paternity,
- You have the right to seek legal advice before signing this document, and
- If you are unsure who the father is, an alternative is to have genetic testing done.

After you have agreed to voluntarily acknowledge paternity, the Clerk of the Court will issue an order legally establishing the father. This order is the same as a judgment of the superior Court. After the order is issued, both parents will have all the rights and responsibilities of parents as required under Arizona law. This order does not decide issues about child support, parenting time (visitation) or custody. However, the order includes a statement of Arizona law that the parent with whom the child has resided for the greater part of the last six months shall have legal custody, unless otherwise ordered by the Court.

Arizona Law allows either parent to rescind the acknowledgment of paternity if certain requirements are met. You may have up to sixty days to do this. See § 25-812(H) of the Arizona Revised Statutes.

Do not sign this form until you are before the Clerk or Notary Public.
